Gerald R. McCutchan, born July 30, 1954, passed away Dec. 17, 2006, at St. Mary's Medical Center in Evansville.

Survivors include his wife of 18 years, Donna McCutchan; father and mother, Ross and Joyce McCutchan; daughters, Jamie and Jennifer McCutchan; stepson, Shawn Huffman. Burial in Little Zion Cemetery in Tennyson, Ind.

FROM THE SMITHS

Mother, Isabel (as you know her and Anne as she is known in GA) will be celebrating her 99th birthday April 18. Charlie and I, Don and Sara Mac will be taking her somewhere special for the big occasion. She continues doing well, enjoying her reading and playing Skip-Bo and occasionally dining out.

I am busy with my art this spring. I will be displaying in two shows simultaneously in April. At Easter, I will have my watercolors in the Mandarin Historical Society's Annual Show where I will be the only artist with work in the historic old Store/Post Office. Harriet Beecher Stowe built the larger Community Building on the property where a larger art show occurs. I will also be a part of the art show at my church during the entire month.

Our daughters Cindy, Kelly and families will come up Easter weekend to see the shows and also to have an early celebration of our 50th Wedding Anniversary (which is in June but everyone's schedule was too difficult to schedule a get-together then). Grandchildren Sarah (17) and Ben (14) will attend but we will miss Joshua (20) as he is at Albany School of Pharmacy in NY.

Charlie and I are looking forward to an anniversary trip to Nova Scotia and in the fall, a trip to Paris, the beaches of Normandy and Chateau Country. (This last trip was a surprise win in a Sweepstakes with Globus/Cosmos Tours!!) God Bless you all, Gyanne Germano Smith

HELLO FROM PAULA SUE SWOPE IN TEXAS

Well, we are finally having rain. Lots of it. Which is wonderful. We have needed rain for several years now. We hope this will break our draught and our hay prices will come down.

Richard and I have joined a great church. Everyone feels so much like our family! I maintain their web site and put the bulletin together each week. Check out the site www.cornerstoneathens.org. We took our 6 grandkids to church with us one Sunday, boy, was that a hoot! They sure had fun and we were very proud to introduce them to the church.

I've gotten involved in the National Walking Horse Association and will be the Show Manager of the June Gaited Gala, Show Secretary of the March East Texas Gaited Classic and Show Secretary of the National Show in September in Tennessee.

The Horse Committee and the Extension Office are keeping me busy. The Horse Committee will be hosting a Crawfish Boil in April to raise funds for our County Livestock Show. We have a Yearling Project at the County Livestock Show the 27th of March. In June, we have a Horsemanship Clinic with instructors from Texas A&M. July is our American Quarter Horse Show and then October is the Extravaganza. We are a busy committee!

A few years ago, Dad and I went down to the old Swope Farm to check things out and I found some Iris's by the old silo. I call them the "Swope Iris's" and they are blooming today and reminding me of McCutchanville.

I'm looking forward to July reunion and I hope we have a big crowd! Mark your calendars, call your family and remind them to mark their calendars.

The weather forecasters are predicting more rain this week. YIPPEE!

See you in July,
Paula Sue & Richard

TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

This has been a very eventful year for our family! I graduated from Florida State University with a degree in Social Science Education almost a year ago. I then got offered a job as a 6th grade World Cultures teacher at Deerlake Middle School, which is exactly 1 mile from our house. Deerlake was one of only 12 middle schools in the nation last year that earned the Presidential Blue Ribbon of Excellence Award for their continued success in school improvement and performance. Aside from teaching, I was asked to be the assistant football coach, head soccer coach, and continue the wrestling program I began during my internship with Deerlake before I graduated. It has been a very busy, yet rewarding experience but I'm also looking forward to time off in the summer!

Aimee is still a nurse at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital. She and another nurse helped start a clinic outside of the hospital that specializes in Wound Care about a year and half ago. She continues to enjoy cleaning and treating things that most people tend to shy away from even looking at.

She is also starting a 2nd job on or around August 25th as she and I will begin our new career of PARENTHOOD!!! We are about 16 weeks pregnant, her more than I, and I have the babies heartbeat recorded on my phone, which is pretty cool! We are very excited about our lives and our future! We are so grateful for how God has opened doors of opportunity and overwhelmingly blessed our lives.

We are uncertain if we will make it to the reunion this year, as we will be coming up in April for a ceremony in Mt. Vernon. We will see some of you then and everyone else I hope you all have a great year and as the infamous Rocky Balboa says in his final movie,

"It's not how hard you can hit that matters. It's how hard you can get hit and keep moving forward that what makes a winner!"

If Rocky says it, we should listen! Have a great year!

JP and Aimee Swope

FROM THE RIGGS

While talking to cousins Paul Swope and Evelyn France, we were discussing our children and it was suggested that we write up something for the News so here it is:

Daughter, Ann White, is the media specialist at Evansville Lutheran School and teaching Spanish. Her husband, Dale, teaches graduate classes in mechanical engineering at the University of Evansville and coaches volleyball at Kentucky Wesleyan University.

Daughter, Jan Weiss, teaches math and is chair of the math department at Ivy Tech in Evansville. Husband, Tom, works on a computer at the Courier and Press placing stories and pictures for the newspaper.

Pat Marcum is an instructor of physical education at the University of Southern Indiana. Her husband, Anthony, is a production supervisor at Craddock Finishing.

Jeanne Winter is a minister at Emmanuel United Methodist Church north of West Terre Haute. Her husband, Sandy, is an Emergency Medical Technician at Newport Chemical Depot.

Nancy Richards is now a stay-at-home mom with three lively boys 6, 8, and 10. Her husband, Jeff, is a software developer for Alcatel in Columbus, Ohio.

Our ten grandchildren range from 6 to 30 and we keep busy just keeping up with them. Their families seem to be involved in the usual things that active families do and we are glad to be able to share in many of their activities. All are well and happy and that is saying a lot!

Jeanine and Richard Riggs

FROM FLORIDA

'Tis the spring season here in Florida. We have had beautiful moderate weather this last week of March. Unfortunately we aren't getting any showers to benefit our lawns and now are on watering restrictions. We get once a week watering now. We have St. Augustine grass that just LOVES water. Most of our homes here in FL have that type of grass. I've told Judy that we need to put more of our lawn in rocks. That way we wouldn't have to water - - or mow as much.

On our porch we have a bunch of orchids that are blooming their heads off. We started getting various types at the commissary when we shopped for groceries at MacDill AFB in Tampa. They are primarily white but we do have some purple ones. Judy is proud of one plant since she started it from a slip off a plant that we had for several months. After it bloomed it put out a small shoot on the stalk that had the bloom. It is now starting to have its own blooms.

I remember planting begonias in Indiana during the summer. Last summer we planted a bunch of begonias around in different beds. There are about ten plants on the east of the house that have grown and have many blooms. They like the eastside. Yes, Miracle Grow does help.

We have signed up for another summer at Yellowstone NP, WY. We report the 11th of May. That means we'll have to start around 4 or 5 May to make it in plenty of time. Judy will again be a cashier. My job will be "Dorm Lead." This is a glorified name for dorm janitor. Primary job will be keeping the public areas in the dorm and recreation room clean. Washing dishes at the EDR when the dishwasher has his/her weekend. And then I'll go down to the store if there is any other time I'm not doing anything. Apparently many of those that were going out to the stores have stopped so we'll see a lot of new people. The manager is the same gentleman though.

We are scheduled to leave the park the 9th of July. We plan to drive around Idaho and/or Oregon some before getting back to FL. We will have to write up an article about our adventures when we get back.

Otherwise we are fine.
Neil & Judy McCutchan, FL

HELLO FROM TEXAS!!!

Not much new here, well, except for we finally have been getting some much needed rain. We still lack about 2 feet to fill the lake, but at least the people who have waterfront property have water under their docks again!

Everything is starting to bloom! I love Spring!! My umbrella bushes have so many blooms it looks like snow!! Some of the Iris are budding...no blooms yet...but probably will by next week. The only thing I don't like about Spring is all the yard work. Seven lots make quite a bit of mowing and weed eating to do. We have four pine trees to cut down from the drought last year....not sure when we'll get to that!! Might have to hire someone to do that...they are pretty tall!

The family is doing fine except for more aches and pains every year!! The kids and all seven grandchildren are all doing well.

Guess I'll close for now, I'm not much of a talker.
LOL

Love to everyone,
Vicki and Ronnie

HARLAN & KITTY

Uncle Paul. There's just nothing really happening in this Side. Just going about the daily tasks of living. Nothing special at all. Going to Doctor for our Check-ups...nothing there to write about. Thank God.

My Daughter Jackie just got 2 Little Sister Pups, 7 weeks old, cute as buttons. Not interesting to any one but us. I still don't have any more Since My Little Poodle died.

Stayed in Most of the Cold weather to keep warm. Had a Electric Bill that almost gave us a heart attack... So did most everyone. I dread the ones coming with the Air-conditioner running all Summer.

Been trying to get Harlan to get the Motor home ready for summer. It has set for 3 summers now...gas so high we couldn't afford to go any place in it. Course its Old, so it eats a lot. It's a 1979 Vogue. Still like new inside. I miss our Boat. I'd love to have another one, So would Harlan, but they cost too Much now days, and NOT half as good as we had. Like cars...cheaper made, but higher than the sky.....

How many news letters do you do a year?
Well you have a good summer, and remember we do love you. You're the ONLY Uncle Harlan has left.

Love Kitty

WACO TEXAS

Well time for that newsletter again. Good way to stay in touch with everyone.

As far as the Waco, TX area we have had some winds down here. Right now some rain too but not complaining yet, it is time, the cows and horses were starting to knock on the door for a drink of water. I am getting a new roof due to tornados and winds but it again, not complaining.

A bunch of my friends got together and gave me a surprise birthday party this year. It was really a surprise, it wasn't even on my birthday. They did it the first weekend in March. I was out running around all day and came to the campsite and as I rounded the corner to pull it couldn't figure out what the heck was going on, way too many cars. (I am into peace and quiet when I am out there) It was really embarrassing but later I thought about it and you know who loves you when they are willing to be out at the lake in 15-30 mph winds with the temp in the low 60's. Needless to say yes we did build a campfire. Never thought about age or anything since I usually don't celebrate since dad died on my birthday but I bring a whole new aspect down here to 55 and alive. They cooked 80 hot dogs and only 3 were left so we had a crowd. It was really a great time.

Jared is reaching the ripe old age of 6 the end of this month and next Tuesday the 27th we will legally be adopting him all the way. Since he has been here for over four years, it was time. So he is really excited about it. We had the option of changing his name but it will stay the same. I love my grandson but don't play games that he is Hispanic and should carry an hispanic name. So he will grow up and make his late grandfather proud with the name of Macias. (MA-see-us).

Hope that everyone is well and I love reading from everyone, especially the ones of long ago.

I am hoping to travel more this year but I haven't expressed that to my doctor yet so he might have a different opinion. There is still so much to see and do. I would love to load up and drag the trailer to Arizona and stay with some RV friends of mine, or just drag it where ever. I have the fever.

Time to go, Manfred is signaling me and I think he might have found a blade of grass growing outside between five weeds. Gotta go. Jo.

Other than that just cleaning up things and getting rid of things I have saved way to long. (Trying to convince Manfred it is time to retire and travel) not convincing him to well though.

Love ya. JO

P.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Schlottmann are proud to announce that Jared Mykael Macias is now a permanent forever part of their lives. The adoption went through last Tuesday and on his birthday, March 30, the judge finalized it. We are so happy for him and he is just tickled to death. We celebrated both that occasion and his birthday on Saturday and then announced it in church Sunday. He stood up at the alter and told everyone that he had a new mom and dad forever and forever and that is all that he really wanted.

We have had the floods here spent Friday night at a friends house mopping out water and mud. We were pretty lucky though and didn't have to worry about it. The lakes that were so low that boats couldn't use the docks are now so high the boats still can't use the docks.

Poor Jared Mykael was afraid it had killed all the deer that he loves so but I assured him that they are smarter than people and took for high ground quick. It was interesting during the storm to see the cows running for high ground. (maybe they are smarter than people too, who love to try and drive through it)

Hope everyone writes in and tells good news. Happy Easter and by little angel will play an angel that day at church so we are really looking forward to Sunday. He is just looking forward to a three day weekend since he didn't have much time to play with all the new toys. Love to you all. Manfred and Jo Sosbe Schottmann and Jared Mykael Macias

GLACKMAN

We didn't have a very good year in '06 and the beginning of '07. I had hip replacement last May followed by rehab, staph infection, more surgery and a long recovery. Then in December, just when we were gearing up to having all our family together for Christmas ,for the first time in several years, I got staph infection in my 16 yr. old knee replacement. I spent Christmas week in the hospital with more surgery followed by three weeks recovery period in a nursing home. Boy was I glad to get home! Poor Gene has been nurse, cook and housekeeper, and has done a terrific job of it! I'm still on antibiotics and iron and have more surgery to look forward to. (knee replacement). I'm using a cane most of the time now but am doing much better have been able to get out and about, especially appreciated getting back to church.

In March we had our daughter Katie (still in Bloomington) visit for a week which was nice, followed the next weekend by a visit from our son Ted and a friend from Philly. His friend had never been to the Midwest before SO-Gene enjoyed showing him the area from the air. I'm sure Gene enjoyed it as much as Bob, since his flying has slowed down quite a bit since he and his partner sold their by-plane and the Dr. he flew for sold his plane also.

The rest of our family is doing fine, Meg is still in Smyrna TN. Her son Logan is working here in Evansville. Ted is still in Philly and his wife Penny is teaching third grade, their son Jake just got engaged in Feb. and we're hoping I'm well enough to make a trip east for the wedding in the spring of '08. Julia, their daughter along with her son Zion are waiting to move into their newly bought home until some remodeling is complete. Grant is nearing the end of a C.P.A.'s busy tax season and I'm sure his wife Carla and his daughter Ella Grace will be happy. Grant's daughter Eva and her husband Mark are living and working in Chicago. Our youngest daughter Laurie is still here in town and works for Guardian Automotive. By the way, more exciting news, granddaughter, Ella Grace is crawling now! That's about all the news from S.E. Browning Rd. Love to all Nancy Swope Glackman

CLIPPINGER ROAD

I get after everyone else to get something in I guess I better get something in.

Angel and I still getting along well, just as I get older I'm getting around a little slower. Seems the more I batch it the less I worry about house cleaning. This place is going to look like some of those that are seen on the news soon.

Been working at the church a lot, always something needing fixing. Whenever there is a special event they ask me to run the sound and projector. I always run the projector on Sundays.

And there is always the table and chairs that need setting up or taken down.

Still working with the Coast Guard Auxiliary, I have a couple of offices and get out the monthly news letter for the local unit.

I'm on the Reitz High School reunion committee that meets every month. We have a reunion every year; we wonder how many years there are left. We had a big blow out for our 60th year reunion last year.

Then there is the computer that keeps me busy. I have the web sites, family, C.G. Unit, Reitz, Church, and McCutchanville School sites I try and keep up. Of course there is the family tree I try and keep up. I need all of your help on the family tree.

I hope everyone stays in good health and I hope to see you all at the reunion.

From Clippinger Road, Paul Swope

FROM JOYCE SWOPE

Hello from Evansville. I couldn't wait until Spring arrived so I could work in my gardens, and it came at a perfect time! I took a vacation week during the last week of March and thoroughly enjoyed the gorgeous Spring weather. New trees are placed in the back yard, the front and back yard gardens are cleaned up, and some of the perennials are rearranged to a better location. My daughter, Amanda, tells me I'm obsessed and need to join a group for help . . . is there a "Gardener's Anonymous" group out there? Oh well, I enjoy working in the yard and one day perhaps my dream of eliminating all the grass from the back yard will come true.

That's all for now except to say that I can't wait until my next week off. Maybe I'll put in a stone walkway or create a new garden bed. Amanda may be right, you think?

Joyce

HELLO TO ALL:

It has been a long time since I've written for the newsletter and several things are happening up here North of Chicago so here goes.

My oldest son David has announced his engagement to his long time girlfriend Amanda. The wedding will be this October. Amanda is originally from Alaska but the wedding will be at our Methodist Church here in Libertyville. Amanda recently purchased a house in Gurnee, just north of us, and they are busy fixing up their starter home.

FRANCE

My youngest son Matt purchased a Condominium in Chicago, both to live in, and as an investment. He continues to be a city person. He works hard at his job constructing dynamic web sites and he plays hard at the amenities of the big city.

Sara, Leslie's youngest girl has settled into a home in Sturgeon Bay Wisconsin, 120 miles north of us. Her boyfriend Tony is a cook and they are beginning a life there together. She is working in Customer Service for a package company. Tony is using his cooking skills making chocolates for a small company in Sturgeon Bay. Sara never dreamed she would own a home so soon. Leslie and I shipped the Swope heirloom, the baby grand piano, to her in February.

Gwen, Leslie's oldest girl, recently welcomed home her husband Ben on leave from Iraq. Ben was welcomed home by his three children William, Julia, and Nickolus. Nickolus was born last September after Ben was deployed. Ben bonded quickly with his son on this furlough because they had been communicating over the internet via of a television camera Gwen and he have on their computers. Ben said before he came home that if Nickolus took strange to him he would just go in the other room and talk to him on the computer monitor. A modern world! Please keep Ben in your prayers as he returns to Iraq.

Leslie still works at Rustoleum and I continue to work at retirement. I have begun a project of taking pictures of the beautiful forest preserves in our area. I have about 10,000 pictures on my computer of the summer, fall, winter, of the area, and I'm photographing spring if it will ever happen. If you want a picture or two, or maybe 5000 or so let me know.

Ken & Leslie Cooksey (Alice Swope's Youngest)
